Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 14 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wet through the morning, drier into the afternoon.

Today:
Rain, sleet and snow will slowly push eastwards through the day, clearing all but the far north during the afternoon, dry with clear spells behind. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tonight:
The remnants of the rain band will clear the north during the first part of the night to leave largely clear skies, allowing temperatures to drop. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Friday:
Tomorrow will be fine and dry with sunny spells to start but turning increasingly cloudy later. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Rain, sleet and snow pushing eastwards on Saturday with showers following behind. Largely dry on Sunday but chance of further showers into the evening. More persistent wintry weather on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.